

Odallus

The Dark Call

Greetings, fearless warrior!

The old gods have forgotten this land. “Evil” is everywhere, greedily seeking for power and readily accepting more adepts. I’m not here to help you, not if you don’t offer me something in return he he he.

Controls

Classic Controller

-  → MOVE
-  → ATTACK
-  → JUMP
-  +  → SUB-WEAPON
-  +  → DASH
-  → SWITCH WEAPON
-  → PAUSE

Modern Controller

-  → MOVE
-  → ATTACK
-  → JUMP
-  → SUB-WEAPON
-  → DASH
-  → SWITCH WEAPON
-  → PAUSE

You

What, you don't remember who you are? That is a most unusual thing. Well, your name is Haggis and I heard you have partaken many battles in the past. Folks had told me you were having a more peaceful live these days but I find hard to believe someone so used to the battlefield could so easily settle up.

The world

Our lands are unforgiving with outsiders but I'm sure you remember it.

Don't fall on those spikes, they are not only ornamental he he he.

Our fathers and their fathers before them paid their debts to man and gods alike, with the souls orbs of the slayed ones. That's a good currency enough for me.

If you are lucky enough, you may even find some chest left by some unfortunate late hunter. They hide orbs or e/se.

There are lots of remains of old buildings around. Old people say some of those ruins may house enormous beasts. Old people, they are always so grim.

Whoever raised those buildings also left some statues. However those pricks where they sure seem powerful.

Areas

You remember where you live, right? Town of Glenfinnan (1), as shiny as ever he he he.

What you probably don't know is that the city was built on top of an Underground Temple (5). I don't even know who build it; I just know our people hated them for some reason.

You may think you know your ways inside the Dark Forest (2) but I can tell you for sure, you don't even know half of it(6).

That weird area of wetlands we call Aqueducts (3) for some reason with those weird buildings hold even more secrets (7). Some say secrets there were kept alive he he he

The cold desert of Devil's Peak (4) have changed greatly in the past moons as if something was hatching inside of the Frozen Mines (8) in it.

Gael's Castle (9) is right after all this. Word has it that Gael's thoughts are not at him lately.

Humans

There are not much of us left this far west now, are there? It is not likely you will find anyone else beside myself.

Good luck and I hope you find what you search for... Whatever it is.

Thanks for playing!

Any problems you have, please contact us at

hello@joymasher.com

